

PRIVY COUNCIL OF STATE.

The following Resolutions of Concurrence on the deaths of Honorables Lawrence McCully and George E. Richardson, were unanimously adopted by the Council at its meeting of the 21st instant:

On the tenth of the present month (April, 1892) died deceased at his residence in Honolulu, the Honorable Lawrence McCully, a member of the Privy Council of State. He had held various offices under this Government almost continuously since 1855 and was for fifteen years an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. He witnessed the great changes that have taken place in this country during the reigns of four successive kings, and his share in the legal and constitutional questions settled by the Court of which he was a member are now a part of the history of this kingdom.

RESOLVED by this Council: That in the death of Judge McCully Her Majesty, the people of these islands and this Council have lost an upright and able Judge, an intelligent citizen and a wise councillor, devoted to the best interests of this adopted country.

RESOLVED, That this minute be entered upon the records of the Council and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

Attest:
C. P. LAUREA,
Secretary.

Death has again invaded our ranks, and taken from earth Honorable George E. Richardson, a member of this Council. He died at Wailuku, Maui, after much suffering, on the 14th instant. The deceased was a Hawaiian, born and educated in this country, and by reason of his diligent study and honesty of character rose to the position of Circuit Judge of the Second Judicial Circuit, in which office he died, leaving a name honored for probity and impartiality.

RESOLVED, That in the death of Judge Richardson Her Majesty and the Hawaiian people lose a worthy and patriotic citizen and an able public servant whose place it will be hard to fill.

RESOLVED, That this Resolution be spread upon the records of this Council and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

Attest:
C. P. LAUREA,
Secretary.

Daily Bulletin

FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1892.

It is a sad singularity that appears in the official column today—resolutions of condolence on the death of two members.

The Advertiser followed Ka Leo in sneering at the new dredge while preparations were going on to put it in operation. Now that the dredge is working with promise of complete success, the Advertiser meanly throws all the onus of opposition to the deepening of the bar on its ally.

The Liberals held a meeting at the old Armory last night. Annexation was only mentioned incidentally and that with disfavor. Mr. Bush who presided showed his respect for the sense of the meeting by bringing out his paper this morning brimming with squibs to the glory of annexation and denationalization of his people.

Patrons of and participants in field sports will appreciate the weekly article on topics under that head which is made a feature in this paper. Notes of information and suggestion will be gladly received and handed to the editor of that department.

Contributions will tend to enrich "Comments on Sports." Our columns are open at the same time to criticism of the comments.

Writers in Ka Leo tacitly charge that the opium investigating committee of 1890 was influenced by corruption. Where has this knowledge been reposing all this time? Why was the important information withheld when it might have been effective in nailing the criminals? And what was the good of the second investigating committee, whose operations were conducted by Ka Leo.

From the customs frauds at San Francisco we did not attempt to prove that a republic was peculiarly productive of crime, but simply that official corruption was just as liable to occur there as in a constitutional monarchy. Annexation is often heard argued here as a cure for every ill to which a state may be subject. There is neither rhyme nor reason in the argument. Ka Leo knows it, but Ka Leo cannot argue. It can only declaim and sophisticate its simpler readers' understanding.

So long as we have unpaved streets that will stand neither sweeping nor washing, the only alternative to blinding and choking dust must be artificially dampened streets. A light wetting on the prevalent thick coats of dust would under the tropical sun give but a few minutes' abatement of the nuisance. The sprinkling carts with all their faults are better and more economical of water than the Chinatown system of every shopkeeper's deluging the streets and spattering the clothes of pedestrians, while wasting the water supply, with hose.

The Advertiser boasts of its singular independence in the criticism of public officials. If it means inconsiderate abuse of officials, without being able to convince the public of either the officials' fault or its own sincerity, it may take the medal. It is great for digging up old questions and putting them in new holocausts, only to talk all round them once or twice and then drop them indefinitely. Its so-called criticism has usually a flavor of blackmail and slang, which makes it despised by the objects and detested by the public. What good has the Advertiser ever effected in public affairs, either when a cormorant on the treasury or hungrily gazing over the fence? Show the public some results of your independence, or else cease attracting attention by empty bragging to your barrenness of influence.

BANCO SESSION.

To be Held Tomorrow—Cases on the Calendar.

The Supreme Court will sit in banco to-morrow (Saturday, April 23d), to hear banco cases. Following are the cases to be heard:

The Queen vs. Ah Hung and several other Chinese charged with attempting to land in the port of Honolulu without passports, appeal from the decision of Dole, J., in chambers. Attorney-General for the Crown; Hartwell, Castle, Magoon and Peterson for the defendants.

In the Estate of Kealiahouli, probate appeal from order of Dole, J., overruling respondent's plea in abatement. Ashford & Ashford for Junius Kane; petitioner for revocation of the will, Hatch for respondents.

Ing Choi vs. Ung Sung & Company, water controversy in Palolo. Appeal from the commissioner. Castle for plaintiff appellant; Thurston & Frear for defendants.

Maria Gomes da Silva vs. Joaquim Gomes da Silva, desertion and neglecting to support wife. Appeal from the Police Court of Honolulu. Hatch Neumann for plaintiff; Davidson for defendant.

Kailani et al. vs. Lumai et al., ejectment on exceptions from Fourth Circuit Court. Rosa for plaintiffs appellants; Smith for defendants.

Liu Kong vs. Keahialoa, assumption, on appeal from the Police Court of Honolulu, placed on the calendar for reargument. Achi for plaintiff; Castle for defendant appellant.

A. J. Lopez vs. M. Kakaikawa et al., ejectment, exceptions from order of Judd, C. J., overruling plaintiff's motion for a new trial. Magoon-Holokahiki for plaintiff; Ashford & Ashford for defendants.

Harriet Squires and others vs. Gaspar Silva, ejectment, appeal from decision of Judd, C. J., in favor of plaintiff. Castle for plaintiffs; Hartwell and Rosa for defendant appellant.

Emily de Herblay vs. Samuel Norris, assumpsit. Question reserved by Bickerton, J., on defendant's motion in arrest of judgment claiming that the action being assumpsit which is based on a foreign judgment the statute of limitations has run. Thurston & Frear-Neumann for plaintiff; Hartwell and Hatch for defendant appellant.

C. Afong vs. Chun Hoy and J. A. Hopper, bill in equity to declare a trust. Appeal from decree of Dole, J., in favor of plaintiff. Hartwell for plaintiff; Hatch and Castle for defendants.

Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. Fifty cent bottles for sale at all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

"German Syrup"

A Cough and Croup

For children a medicine should be absolutely reliable. A mother must be able to pin her faith to it as to her Bible. It must contain nothing violent, uncertain, or dangerous. It must be standard in material and manufacture. It must be plain and simple to administer; easy and pleasant to take. The child must like it. It must be prompt in action, giving immediate relief, as children's troubles come quick, grow fast, and end fatally or otherwise in a very short time. It must not only relieve quick but bring them around quick, as children chafe and fret and spoil their constitutions under long confinement. It must do its work in moderate doses. A large quantity of medicine in a child is not desirable. It must not interfere with the child's spirits, appetite or general health. These things suit old as well as young folks, and make Boschee's German Syrup the favorite family medicine.
